ENDORSED AT HOME

James E. Alexander and J. E. J. Marsh Receive Pluralities at DeLand Precinct and Good Vote in County.

BRUMSEY BREAKS THE RECORD

All the "Present Incumbent" County Officials Given Two to Four Years More of Peace and Plenty by the Voters, Who Are Satisfied with Them and Want Them Longer—Results Throughout the State.

The first general primary under the new law was held in Florida on Tuesday, and, generally speaking, has proven most satisfactory in every respect. Returns are slow in coming in. At DeLand, for instance, where the ticket held the names of 117 candidates, it took the judges of election just 9 hours to canvass 211 ballots. At this rate, it would take 27 hours or more to canvass the 600 or more ballots with more names polled in the large precincts in Jacksonville,

Watson. Alexander. Dougherty. This would put Barrs and Clark in the second primary—and the contest will prove a most interesting one from start to finish. This article on the situation is written Thursday night, and is based on what information can be gleaned from the daily and weekly papers received at this office, and from such telegrams as have been received in DeLand. THE NEWS has wired twice to Jacksonville for information and can learn nothing. Even at word, or a charge of fraud of any kind, about the conduct of the primary in DeLand, THE NEWS has failed to hear of it. At Daytona and Orange City, however, there was some little talk of a contest based on alleged unfairness. Taken as a whole, the primary election has proven a great success, and, we believe, will never be willingly abolished by the people of the state. The opinion on this point has been registered in no uncertain tone by the decided vote against the convention.

Tampa and other sections of the state.

There were no special surprises in the primary election, so far as heard from, with the exception of the vote for Senator Taliaferro. This has been most surprising, and latest returns indicate that Taliaferro may be nominated in the first primary, receiving a clean majority over Stockton and Jennings.

It has not yet been determined who will enter the second race for governor. It is generally surmised, however, that Mays and Broward will be in the second primary, Mr. Davis receiving the third largest vote. The southern counties, which were supposed to be for Davis, have given Mays a very heavy vote; the western counties are supposed to have given Mays large pluralities, and he will in all probability, enter the second primary on June 7 with a big plurality as a handicap on his opponent.

The congressional contest is still most interesting. From present indications, the five candidates will stand in the following order:
Clark.
Barrs.

political headquarters there nothing appears to be known, further than mere guess work and estimates based on the returns from small precincts.

Judge John C. Jones appears to have won over Judge Butt for state attorney, but even this cannot be learned definitely.

In Volusia county, all the old officers have been renominated with handsome majorities. They appear to have "just flew."

The Legislative contest was at first quite exciting. Up to noon Wednesday, Marsh and Brumsey led by a few votes. When the coast precincts were heard from, however, the general result was changed. This can readily be seen by reference to the tabulated vote printed in this issue.

We publish the total vote received by each candidate on the ticket used in Volusia county, and this, with the table printed herewith, should be cut out and saved for future reference.

There was no trouble at any of the precincts in Volusia county, and, in fact, the contest at the polls throughout the state appears to have been devoid of disturbance of any kind. In DeLand the election was apparently fair, and the judges conducted it to the satisfaction of all the candidates. If there was a cross

The County Executive Committee will meet on Saturday at the court house to canvass the returns and to make arrangements for conducting the next primary. The committee will also, in all probability, make arrangements for the election of a new committee for the ensuing two years.

How to Wash Gold Chains.
Gold chains may be washed in soap-suds, drying them on a soft towel by pulling the chain backward and forward, but care must be taken to pull it the right way of the curb, or link. These may also be placed in sawdust, the particles of which can be easily blown away afterward. The least dampness between the links is very likely to cause them to wear more rapidly.

How to Make a Cheap Floor Stain.
Two cents' worth of permanganate of potash dissolved in half a pint of water makes a cheap stain. Give the floor two coats, allowing time for each to get thoroughly dry. Then rub well with paraffin.
